

THE EDUCATION COMMITTEE

PRESENTS

Ed Clifton, our local “aqua marine geologist” who was the first of the undersea explorers ever to attempt living in a marine habitat will be presenting his last series of talks at the Manor on June 17, 24 and July 1 at 9:30 am in the Meeting House sponsored by the Education Committee.

these provides a different view of life and death in these enigmatic pathways to the deep ocean. Monterey Canyon with its tributary Carmel and Soquel Canyons is the largest submarine canyon on the U.S.

OCEANIC CIRCULATION, THE GOOD, THE BAD AND THE UGLY

(June 17)

The circulation of ocean water is critical to the health of the ocean and to human well-being. Driven by variations in the reception of solar radiation across the globe, it influences climate and permits life to exist throughout the sea. It also generates dead zones, harmful El Niño events and vast accumulations of trash. This presentation explores the origins and nature of oceanic circulation, how its consequences can be beneficial, destructive, or revolting. We will examine oceanic gyres and their origin, the great “oceanic conveyor belt”, upwelling and El Niño, dead zones, ocean anoxic events, the Great Pacific Garbage Patch, and the mysterious Blob of 2015. We will also look into the future to see what the La Niña of 2016 might hold for us.

A TALE OF TWO CANYONS

(June 24)

Submarine canyons remain among the most baffling large-scale features on the planet. Their origins and what transpires within them are shrouded in mystery. This presentation focuses on two familiar submarine canyons: the contemporary Monterey Submarine Canyon and an ancient submarine canyon at Point Lobos that filled with what today is called the Carmelo Formation. Each of West Coast. It is also one of the most studied undersea canyons in the world. Recent studies by researchers at MBARI and CSUMB have shown that within the upper reaches of this canyon the canyon-floor sediment, long thought to be inactive, is remarkably mobile.

No one has seen, nor is likely to see, a large powerful current sweeping through the full extent of a canyon. Conglomerate in the Carmelo Formation, however, provides an indication of the immense energy involved in a giant turbidity current.

THE EVOLUTION OF THE MARINE MAMMALS OF THE CENTRAL CALIFORNIA COAST

(July 1)

This lecture follows the history of the earth as it relates to the origins of West Coast cetaceans, pinnipeds and sea otters, noting the events that laid the groundwork for their development, and tracks their evolution from land mammals to marine mammals over the past 50 million years.

The evolutionary history of the whales is particularly rich because their large bones are more prone to preservation and discovery. Their fossil record chronicles the progression from a coyote-sized land predator through a series of large mammals, each becoming increasingly adapted to life in the open sea. The evolutionary history of seals, sea lions and sea otters is not as complete, but their origins are well established.

COUNTRY MUSIC SPECIAL

They had a hard act to follow and they did a marvelous job! Janet McEwen Brown on mandolin and Talmadge Wells on piano followed the cabaret, performing the night after that show. A delightful, sweet country sound, they packed the Lobby and latecomers brought in patio chairs for the overflow. The best part was the enthusiasm they inspired in the audience as many sang along happily. We moved in to dinner with blissful spirit, lovin' it!

MEMORIAL★DAY★SERVICES

Will Furman inspired us with his strong rendition of the National Anthem. We welcomed the flag carried by Manor Eagle Scouts and pledged allegiance. Patriotic songs were sung by the Manorisms led by Kate Latimer. "Just a Common Soldier", a poem, was offered by Woody Beville.

It was a clear, thoughtful ceremony after which Otto Neely played Taps.

MEMORIAL ★ DAY

It is for the sake of our souls
That times are set for us to remember even though there may be little that consoles.

We sometimes have to pay the price to be a member once again of what the word "re-member" implies, Putting ourselves back to together again, facing what has torn us apart.

All of us are wounded and have wounded, singly and together, no denies.

Something we must recognize to once again be a part of what makes us a community with a common heart.

It is part of the grace of living in order to become a work of art.

And if we have the courage to re-member then gifts galore pour into our lives: things so good we are blessed in every member.

We are whole again, ourselves again, we are alive.

MEMORIAL ★ DAY ★ PUTTING

May 30, 2016

Thirty-two golfers, 19 men and 13 women, joined the putting competition on a sunny Memorial Day morning.
Three men, Jack Borsting, Dick Heuer, and Jack Enbom, tied at 37 after completing the 18 hole putting course.
Dick Heuer was eliminated on the first playoff hole and Jack Enbom defeated Jack Borsting on the second playoff hole. Jim Vorhes won the men's long putt with an ace (one putt). George Albright and Bill Kern each had three aces in their rounds.

Diane Nelson was the women's champion with a 38 followed by Ramona Smith with a 40 and Corky Duke at 42.strokes Deanna Woodhour won the women's long putting contest at 23 inches from the cup. Diane Nelson,

Corky Duke, Kay Enbom,
Deanna Woodhour, and Carol Lannon all had one ace during their putting rounds. The Sports and Games Committee thanks all the participants and the spectators for attending and cheering them on.

Great Performances Cabaret

For one evening during dinner we were in a very exclusive club. The dining room was transformed with soft lights, the music of piano and band and the outstanding talents of our own residents. Songs were romantic reminders and cherished old standbys with a definite light- hearted French accent. Otto Neely is to be congratulated in particular as he produced, directed and acted as Master of Ceremonies for the affair which was arranged under the auspices of the Events Committee, Carol Lannon and Sally Viscount, Chairpersons. Residents of Hillcrest and the Health Center have expressed their pleasure in having had a special preview production prior to the one in the dining room in keeping with Art Brown's suggestions for togetherness.

What an evening!
