The man said to the rabbi "I'm very troubled. My son went away and came back a Christian." The rabbi said "You know, it's funny you said that; the same thing happened to me."
 So they prayed to God and He said "You know it's funny you said that..."

A Tribute to John Chambers

John Chambers, who died this summer, contributed much to setting up our Residents' Garden. He, with wife Joan, Jim Valentine, and Ernie Jones, planned this garden long ago. They hired contractors to build the 21 raised garden beds, with spacious gravel paths, a watering system, tool shed and high chain link fence. John told of wheeling in so many carts of soil that he lost count. And Joan, with a twinkle in her eye, recalls a garden open house with festooned carts to bring in the residents, while they had only two-inch-high plants to show...well the beauty of a garden is in the promise of tomorrow, so they say.

and planting them as the week went on. Most of these are still producing, in one way or another - lovely flowers for use in the homes and community places of the Manor. Also, at that time, Joan asked permission to buy a garden bench, now replaced after years of use.

THE CUT OF THE JIB is what gives the Manor Residents' Garden special elegance and prestige, as it stands with terraced beds on just the right tilt of land. Flowers or no, the garden structure is a stunning work of art.

We remember John and special garden friends with our participation and satisfaction in growing things, the essence of life, and the pleasure of living.

Lorraine Schmit—Garden Chair

John and Joan would go each seasonal Sunday to Griggs Nursery, purchasing flats of plants to fill the ready beds
